

Dodecatheon meadia

Shooting Star (page 1 of 1)

The inflorescence is an umbel.

© Sharon Yiesla

Pink or white flowers; perfect, with 5 petals sharply reflexed back. The male and female parts protrude as a tube from the center of the flower.

© Sharon Yiesla

The plant consists of a basal rosette of leaves with floral scapes rising up vertically; 12 to 18 inches tall.

© Sharon Yiesla

The leaves form a basal rosette. Each leaf is 6 inches long, oblong with an entire margin.

© Sharon Yiesla

Fruits are upright capsules.

© Sharon Yiesla