

Pepo: a specialized berry with a hard or leathery rind and fleshy interior, with no septa (walls).

The pepo is the typical fruit of the Cucurbit family. Pumpkins and gourds are examples of this fruit type.

© Sharon Yiesla

Squash are also pepos.

© Sharon Yiesla

Watermelon also fits into this fruit type.

